O. Scoring Guidelines

1. For each ball, the following needs to be noted:
 - a. Runs/dot-ball against the batsman
 - b. Runs/dot-ball against the bowler
 - c. Runs (if any) against the score
2. If the ball is a no-ball or wide
 - a. Mark runs against the extras under wides or no-balls as appropriate
 - b. Mark runs against the bowler under wides or no-balls column as appropriate
 - c. Put a Y mark for wide, or a NB mark for a no-ball, against the ball bowled by the bowler
 - d. If more than one run is scored off a wide, then mark the number of runs with the Y symbol, e.g. 2+Y against the ball bowled by the bowler
 - e. If runs are scored of a no-ball, then
 - i. Mark the number of runs with the NB symbol, e.g. 2+NB against the ball bowled by the bowler
 - ii. Mark only 1 run against extras under no-ball. Mark the runs scored of the bat against the batsman, or if a bye/leg-bye against the extras under byes/leg-byes as appropriate.
 - f. If the runs scored of a ball are declared as leg-bye or bye
 - i. Mark the runs against the extras under leg-byes or byes as appropriate
 - ii. Mark a B against the ball bowled by the bowler if a bye is signaled
 - iii. Mark a LB against the ball bowled by the bowler if a leg-bye is signaled
 - iv. If more than one run is scored off a bye, then mark the number of runs with the B, e.g. 2B against the ball bowled by the bowler
 - v. If more than one run is scored off a leg-bye, then mark the number of runs with the LB, e.g. 2LB against the ball bowled by the bowler
 - vi. Mark a dot-ball against the batsman
 - vii. NOTE: In the final calculation of runs given by a bowler, the leg-byes and byes are to be ignored.
 - g. At the end of each over, the following needs to be done:
 - i. Note the runs and wickets in the overs progression area against the corresponding over number.
 - h. At the fall of each wicket the following needs to be noted:
 - i. Note the method of dismissal
 - ii. Mark a W against the ball bowled by the bowler
 - iii. Note the fielding team players involved
 1. In case of catches, both the bowler and the fielder taking the catch must be noted
 2. In case of run-out the fielder throwing the ball to either end must be noted, so must the player who breaks the stumps.
 3. In case of stumping/caught-behind note the name of the wicket-keeper (there may be multiple wicket-keepers over the duration of an innings)

4. In case of LBW, bowled, hit-wicket, note just the bowler
- iv. Note the runs, overs and the batsman's name in the FOW (fall-of-wicket) area under the corresponding wicket number (1-10)
- i. At the end of each innings, the following needs to be done
 - i. For each batsman, tally up the following:
 1. Runs scored into RUNS
 2. Balls faced
 3. 4's and 6's
 - ii. Add up the extras and enter into EXTRAS
 - iii. Calculate TOTAL RUNS= RUNS + EXTRAS
 - iv. For each bowler, tally up the following:
 1. Overs bowled
 2. Maidens
 3. Runs given
 4. Wickets taken
 5. Wides & No-balls
 - v. FINAL CHECK: The following should equate to the same total ($a = b = c$):
 1. Total Batsmen runs + wides + no-balls + leg byes + byes
 2. Total Runs given by bowlers + leg byes + byes
 3. Runs on the score section
