
OCDO CODE OF CONDUCT

This Code of Conduct identifies the standard of behavior, which is expected of all OCDO members, including players, coaches, parents, directors, officials, managers, volunteers and employees.

The OCDO is committed to providing a sport environment in which all individuals are treated with respect and integrity. Members of the OCDO shall conduct themselves at all times in a fair and responsible manner. Members shall refrain from comments or behaviours that are disrespectful, offensive, abusive, racist or sexist.

In particular, the OCDO will not tolerate behavior that constitutes harassment or abuse.

During the course of all OCDO activities and events, members shall avoid behavior, which brings the OCDO or the sport of cricket into disrepute, including but not limited to abusive use of alcohol and non-medical use of drugs.

It is the belief of the OCDO that all OCDO Members will conduct themselves in a manner that:

- Respects officials, opponents, representatives of other cricket clubs, parents, players and coaches,
- Promotes fair play and skill development,
- Enhances the reputation of the OCDO, and
- Adds to the enjoyment of the game for all participants.

The OCDO expects that the standards of behavior outlined in this Code of Conduct to be followed by everyone.

Failure to comply with this Code of Conduct may result in the member losing privileges that come with membership in the Club, including the opportunity to participate in activities.

Harassment

Harassment by nature is disrespectful and therefore considered unacceptable by the Club. Harassment is defined as a comment, conduct or gesture directed toward an individual or group of individuals which is insulting, intimidating, humiliating, malicious, degrading or offensive. The OCDO policy deals with harassment that fits the definition “to disturb persistently; torment, bother continually; persecute; to trouble by repeated attacks or hostilities.

Harassment is generally the result of an ongoing pattern of unwanted or unacceptable behaviour however it can also result from a single isolated act such as: physical assault, sexual touching or sexual assault, unwanted comments about a person’s race, religion or sexual orientation.

Harassment is defined as any unwelcome advances, for sexual favours or other verbal or physical conduct when

1. submitting to or rejecting this conduct is used as the basis for making decisions which affect the individual
2. such conduct has the purpose or effect of interfering with an individual's performance
3. such conduct creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment

OCDO should first attempt to resolve the issues that violate their code of conduct in a manner that is specified by the club for Code of Conduct infractions. Codes of Conduct should not deal with more serious behavior and the OCDO must direct these concerns to the Police and/or other fitting legal organizations should they fit into the harassment definition provided.

Abuse

The OCDO, is required to ensure the safety of all members. If you have a reasonable belief to suspect that a child is or may be suffering or may have suffered abuse or neglect, you are to directly report this to Family and Children’s Services. A child is defined as any person 16 years of age and younger.

Fair Play

The notion of Fair Play is a universally understood concept, which underpins all of sport. Without fairness, sport is devoid of any meaning or purpose. Worse still, it can be a detrimental experience for its participants.

Fair Play is also a philosophy— one of respect for others, and respect for the institution of sport. It leads to an agreement, between all those involved in sport, on the values and lessons that we want sport to teach our children, and ourselves.

Playing fair also has to do with making choices. As we interact with each other in sport, or as spectators, we must regularly consider and define what we think is right and what is not. Sport engages us in a collective effort to pursue human excellence. As our children interact with each other in sport, their ability to make good choices about fair play issues matures along with their ability to think and learn about what makes for a rewarding and fulfilling life in society.
